ENGLISH AND CHINESE

DICTIONARY.

WITH THE PUNTS AND MANDARIN

PROVINCIAL.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary published at

Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehensiveness and practical service this work stands unrivalled. All the new words which have been introduced into the Chinese language, and the rapid advances in science generally, which the rapid advances in foreign relations have introduced into the Chinese language, are given in Chinese. Each word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punt pronunciation are given the accents being clearly marked on the best principles hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have hitherto characterized

Chinese publications.

To illustrate the size of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:

Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 10,000

Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English
